

Checklist for Bearded vulture release sites

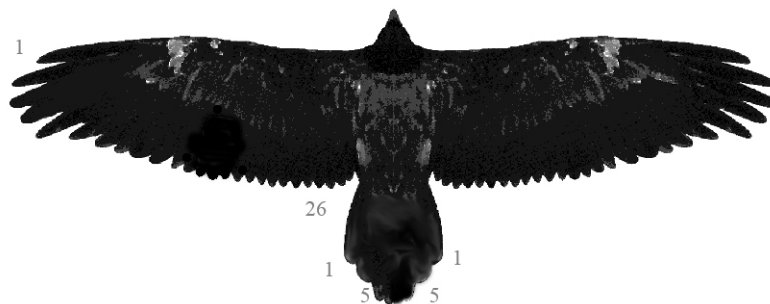

Before the birds are definitely released (broad to the release cave)

please make sure to:

- Check the position of visible plumage marks (number of bleach feathers)
- Check the position (left/right, up/down) of the rings
- Take photos of both spread wings from below and above
- Take photos of the text/numbers on the rings
- Take photos of the rings (ring colour) on both legs

Please send data and pictures immediately to gyp-monitoring@aon.at

Your data will be put into the IBM data base in order to make sure birds can be re-identified many years later.

Note: View is from below; primaries and secondaries are counted continuously from the wing tip towards the body Tail feathers are counted from lateral
